
Going Beyond to Reach the Next Generation

Please join with us as we pray for our church family to respond to God’s call to go beyond — to a deeper personal faith and a greater corporate impact — by training our church family, serving our community and changing our world. After many months of working with an architectural firm specializing in church designs and getting input from the Elder Board, staff and congregation, we now have a Master Facility Plan (MFP) that has been approved by both the City of Escondido and our EFCC Board of Elders. Our new Master Facility Plan includes four phases, and the Elders approved moving forward on the first two phases, starting with a two-story Children’s Ministry space. When Faith Kids moves from the Nursery and Education Center, this will open up downstairs classrooms for Adult Fellowships and Bible studies. We’ll also be expanding the Holy Grounds Café and Courtyard to provide more opportunities, where spiritual connections and conversations happen.

Here’s what our pastoral and lay Board of Elders are saying ...

“ I am convinced not only that we should do this, but that we must do this if we want this church to continue to reach families and influence our community for Christ over the next 75 years. I see the Master Facility Plan vision as a wonderful affirmation that Emmanuel Faith is invested in raising up future generations to know and love Jesus. ” — Josh Rose

“ I believe that this will inspire others to participate more actively in their Christian lives, as it did with me and my family over 25 years ago. ” — John Waring

“ The plans we have for improving our campus will give us more and better opportunities to engage with the community and make Emmanuel Faith a more inviting place to visit. ” — Chris Dull

“ This is not just about building something new and nice, but about building ‘spiritual somebodies.’ This is about a place where the building that goes on is for the bringing of the good news – building faithful followers of Christ and future leaders. That future begins with the investment we make in His work today. ” — John Wojnicki

“ I believe a new or remodeled facility can be a tool to facilitate our ambition to follow God’s desires for us. God has given our local assembly the unique privilege to be a light in North County and the means to significantly overhaul our facility for even greater opportunity to carry out Scriptures’ instructions for displaying Christ in our community. ” — Brian Jung

“By investing in improved facilities for our children, I am convinced we can do an even better job of preparing children to take their place in the world as fully committed followers of Christ, both locally and globally.” — Dave Hall

“As co-laborers in the building of God’s kingdom, this Master Facility Plan is one of the most practical tools for building disciples who can lead others into a relationship with Jesus in our local community and around the world.” — Jaisen Fuson

“As an elementary Sunday school teacher over the past 20 years, I have experienced the limitations we have due to the age, size and conditions of our current children’s buildings. By starting with the children’s buildings we will be able to continue to provide a solid spiritual foundation for our children and provide a larger, safer, more free-flowing inviting campus that will consolidate our entire children’s ministry in one building.” — Mike Snodgrass

“The Master Facility Plan provides many opportunities:

- To continue the legacy of those who have gone before us, living generously and sacrificially, while faithfully stewarding the resources the Master has entrusted to this congregation.
- To trust the Spirit’s leading in new ways as we train and launch future generations into kingdom work throughout North County and the world.” — Steve France

“God led us to our 2020 Vision that says we will be a church family ‘that risks using all means to invite people of all ages, ethnicities and backgrounds into a life-transforming relationship with God through Jesus Christ.’ It’s a great goal that will require greater steps of faith. We must address the obstacles to future growth when it comes to more ministry space for starting new worship services, new church plants and new ministries.” — Greg Lane

“I am convinced that God is again leading EFCC to invest in a campus where future generations of families can bring their children to learn about Jesus in a safe and welcoming environment. This master facility plan will increase our capabilities to teach and train our youth, which will have eternal impact on our community and eventually throughout the world for generations to come and beyond.” — Marcel de Neve
